

COVID-19 UPDATE #12

Spring 2021

This Past Week

We have had a member of our student body test positive this week. They are in isolation and we have others in quarantine because of exposure to this person. Please be diligent in wearing your mask and social distancing yourselves from others. We are so close to the end of the semester. There is one more week of class and then finals begin April 22. We don't want anyone missing special events that are coming up as we celebrate the end of the year. Please be careful.

Testing this Week

Next week, ALL students, faculty, staff and residents need to take their next Covid-19 test Wednesday, April 14, from 7:30 am to 11:00 am in the Library Conference room. Go right up the circular stairs in the Library and it will be the first door on your left at the top. Reminder, this test is not optional. Please note that the testing will conclude at 11:00 am. Please come right before or after your morning classes to get tested quickly. If you do not have a morning class, please come as soon as possible and not later. All you will need to do is show up to administer the self-test. We are anticipating the process to take less than 5 minutes.

Also, if you don't show up for testing on the day you are supposed to, you will not be allowed back on campus without proof that you have taken a Covid-19 test off campus within a specific time frame.

Reminder, if you do not show up on time for testing you will have an automatic warning.
